-Student Led Conferences-

Parents

As always thank you for attending our semester conferences. This semester we will continue with last spring's format of a student led conference. We are very excited to continue this opportunity for our students. It will encourage them to have ownership of their learning, behavior and goal setting. Below are tips and information to help have a successful conference.

Conference Schedule

- Thursday , February 14, 8am-8pm
- Families will continue to sign up for a time slot - visit our website www.mclouth.org and click on parent-teacher conferences under the elementary tab.
- Time slots will still be 15 minutes

Expectations for Parents

- Please be on time
- Be certain to go over expectations with siblings who might be in the room during your child's conference. We want the focus on our students.
- Be supportive and encouraging. This is a big step for our students since they will be doing the talking.
- BE UNDERSTANDING AND FLEXIBLE - Even though we have discussed, planned and practiced there will most likely be hiccups and challenges for us to correct for future conferences

Questions for Parents

- Do we need to bring anything? - All materials will be at school, just bring yourself.
- Do we need to dress up? – Please wear comfortable clothes, students may dress up if they so wish.
- Will there be time to ask our child questions after his/her presentation? - Yes, and sample questions will be provided.
- Can we have our child practice at home or ask them questions about their presentation? -Yes, it would be beneficial to have your child demonstrate or discuss their presentation at home as this will better prepare them for success.
- What will my child be presenting? Each student in our elementary will present samples of academics, behavior, successes, and areas to improve upon.

Will my child be graded over their presentation? No, this will not affect their class grades but there will be a rubric/checklist, self-assessment and teacher assessment that students will follow to prepare for their presentation
